I am using SQL SERVER 2012. A: You cannot use that (funky) syntax (and get an incorrect syntax error if you're just using the handful of SQL Server features that you're using). IOW, it's "complicated" and used to be pretty much an option, not a standard part of the language. I'd recommend to stick to the plain select id, created_at from request order by created_at desc; (Or maybe you really meant to sort by id; this might be a more common thing to do.) fileFormatVersion: 2 guid: 9fdaa9fa2a74d184e9d6960b4e72f904 timeCreated: 1522392753 licenseType: Pro TextureImporter: fileIDToRecycleName: {} externalObjects: {} serializedVersion: 4 mipmaps: mipMapMode: 0 enableMipMap: 1 sRGBTexture: 0 linearTexture: 0 fadeOut: 0
